核子發電站

由曼黑坡和倫敦來的記者團，已跑到格蘭奇部受工部部。五月中旬一日從受工部出發，參觀核子發電廠的建設區，繼續在下午，前往參觀科林斯頓的核子發電廠。

電力的使用，是英國人口密度和工業發展而增加，格拉拉斯區，是英國電網最大的中心。而格蘭奇的工廠，有一半也是設在這區城內，那便使成這區域需要很多的電力。

根據統計，英國電力的使用，在十年內，增加了百分之一百。而核子發電廠將繼續維持下去，即表示英國需要更多的發電廠。格拉拉斯將是整個英國人口最多的城市而又有許多工廠，足以需要大量的電力。

在格拉斯附近，已有著名的士來刺電力發電廠，而哥打士頓的核子發電站，亦必將格拉拉斯所不讓。

這個核子發電站尚在建築中，預算將於一九六九年可以完成發電，發電量是，約有（MEGAWATT，十兆瓦特）。

關於核子發電廠，英國政府是屬於於

原子能管理處。但第一個英國的核子發電站，是在英國建築成功的。一九五六年十月，英國已正式使用卡撒姆威，C.A.T.R. H.A.L.L. 的核子發電廠。

發電量是一百五十瓩。

英國能管理處是一個政府機關，專門負責核子能的研究所發展。由一九六一年四月起，該機關分為五組：（一）研究組（C），核子反應器（R），核子燃料（F），核子工程組（E），核子燃料（F）。

關於最後一組即核子能管理處（E）負責研究方面，而至於核子能的大量製造方面，是屬於國防部的範圍。該機關的工作將變為一般人員到，例如英國原子能管理處建築兩個核子發電廠，完全是為了試驗性條件，那便使該組負責工作的一部分。

因為原子能管理處的工作，是屬於核子能管理處。已於一九五九年宣佈該核子發電站成功。該核子發電站，是屬於英國的核子發電廠。據說，這核子發電站是兩個核子發電站，幾句鐘後，即表示將能運轉。

每年平均建築一兩座電站，即表示一九六三年平均建築一兩座電站。

本港志願善團展開廣泛福利活動
加上政府的社會福利署不斷工作
成爲極有力活動

(特約)香港天主教福利會在香港仔
一價值二百五十萬元樓高四層之社會服務中心，準備為該區居民以及其它貧苦居民在醫院及技術教育方面服務，該計劃定於昨日下午五時半由港督柏立爵士主持。

港督於昨日開幕時稱：香港的社會秩序，就目前的形勢，不易克服的困難約束，多少方面的影響，雖然我們不能斷定不決缺乏同情心或是對於解決香港作積極的努力。

港督繼續說：「我在香港住得愈久，是深切地感到許多熱心而具有人類同情心的人在從事公益，並他們做著不少善名不見於人自行成事，無從瞭解的。」

「這種類人努力聚集起來就是相當大的一股力量」，基於友愛及人道的志願開展了廣大的福利計劃，再加上政府所負有的工作，成為極有力的活動。

「當然，收入有極大的懸殊；同時本港有的是貧窮，痛苦，以及住所艱難現象。凡是真正關心的人都不肯坐視這現狀的。」可是，如果我們只有到片面的觀察，那顯然還是錯誤和有成的。

港督指出：我們必須看到本港正處在發展中；例如興修中的屋宇，正在建造中所及學校；計劃及進行的目的在減輕目前人口及下一代的繁盛現象。

「有的人只住了一天，自暴自棄而死，就如以此為在未來對事實有異解，」

總督在香港仔福利中心開幕時指點美國人民通過美國國會捐出蘇聯與天主教福利會聯合捐資一萬美元，模稜大數，每日可省二千份午餐，蓋草食用的廚房，在最短期內，至六千份天主教午餐。

白英發主祭於昨口歌頌唱讚有捐助善款的人，他們便得到些微薄薪金酬勞，使其經濟能達到自立。

又稱：「自高貴參與的發展對人類前途大有希望，本人對本港政府領導下此宏大的工程成績深以為榮，當我所做的工作或機構以世界為念，亦應互相提供助力並參與此工作。」

大主教又稱：「德國聯邦人民之輸，使該國中心，能有如此良好舉措，在某該國中心設下所設大學校，某該國中最重要的福利工作是與慈善及商業管理協會合辦及建設社會工作為第一帆驅使技術學校灌初級工業歷下良好基礎。」

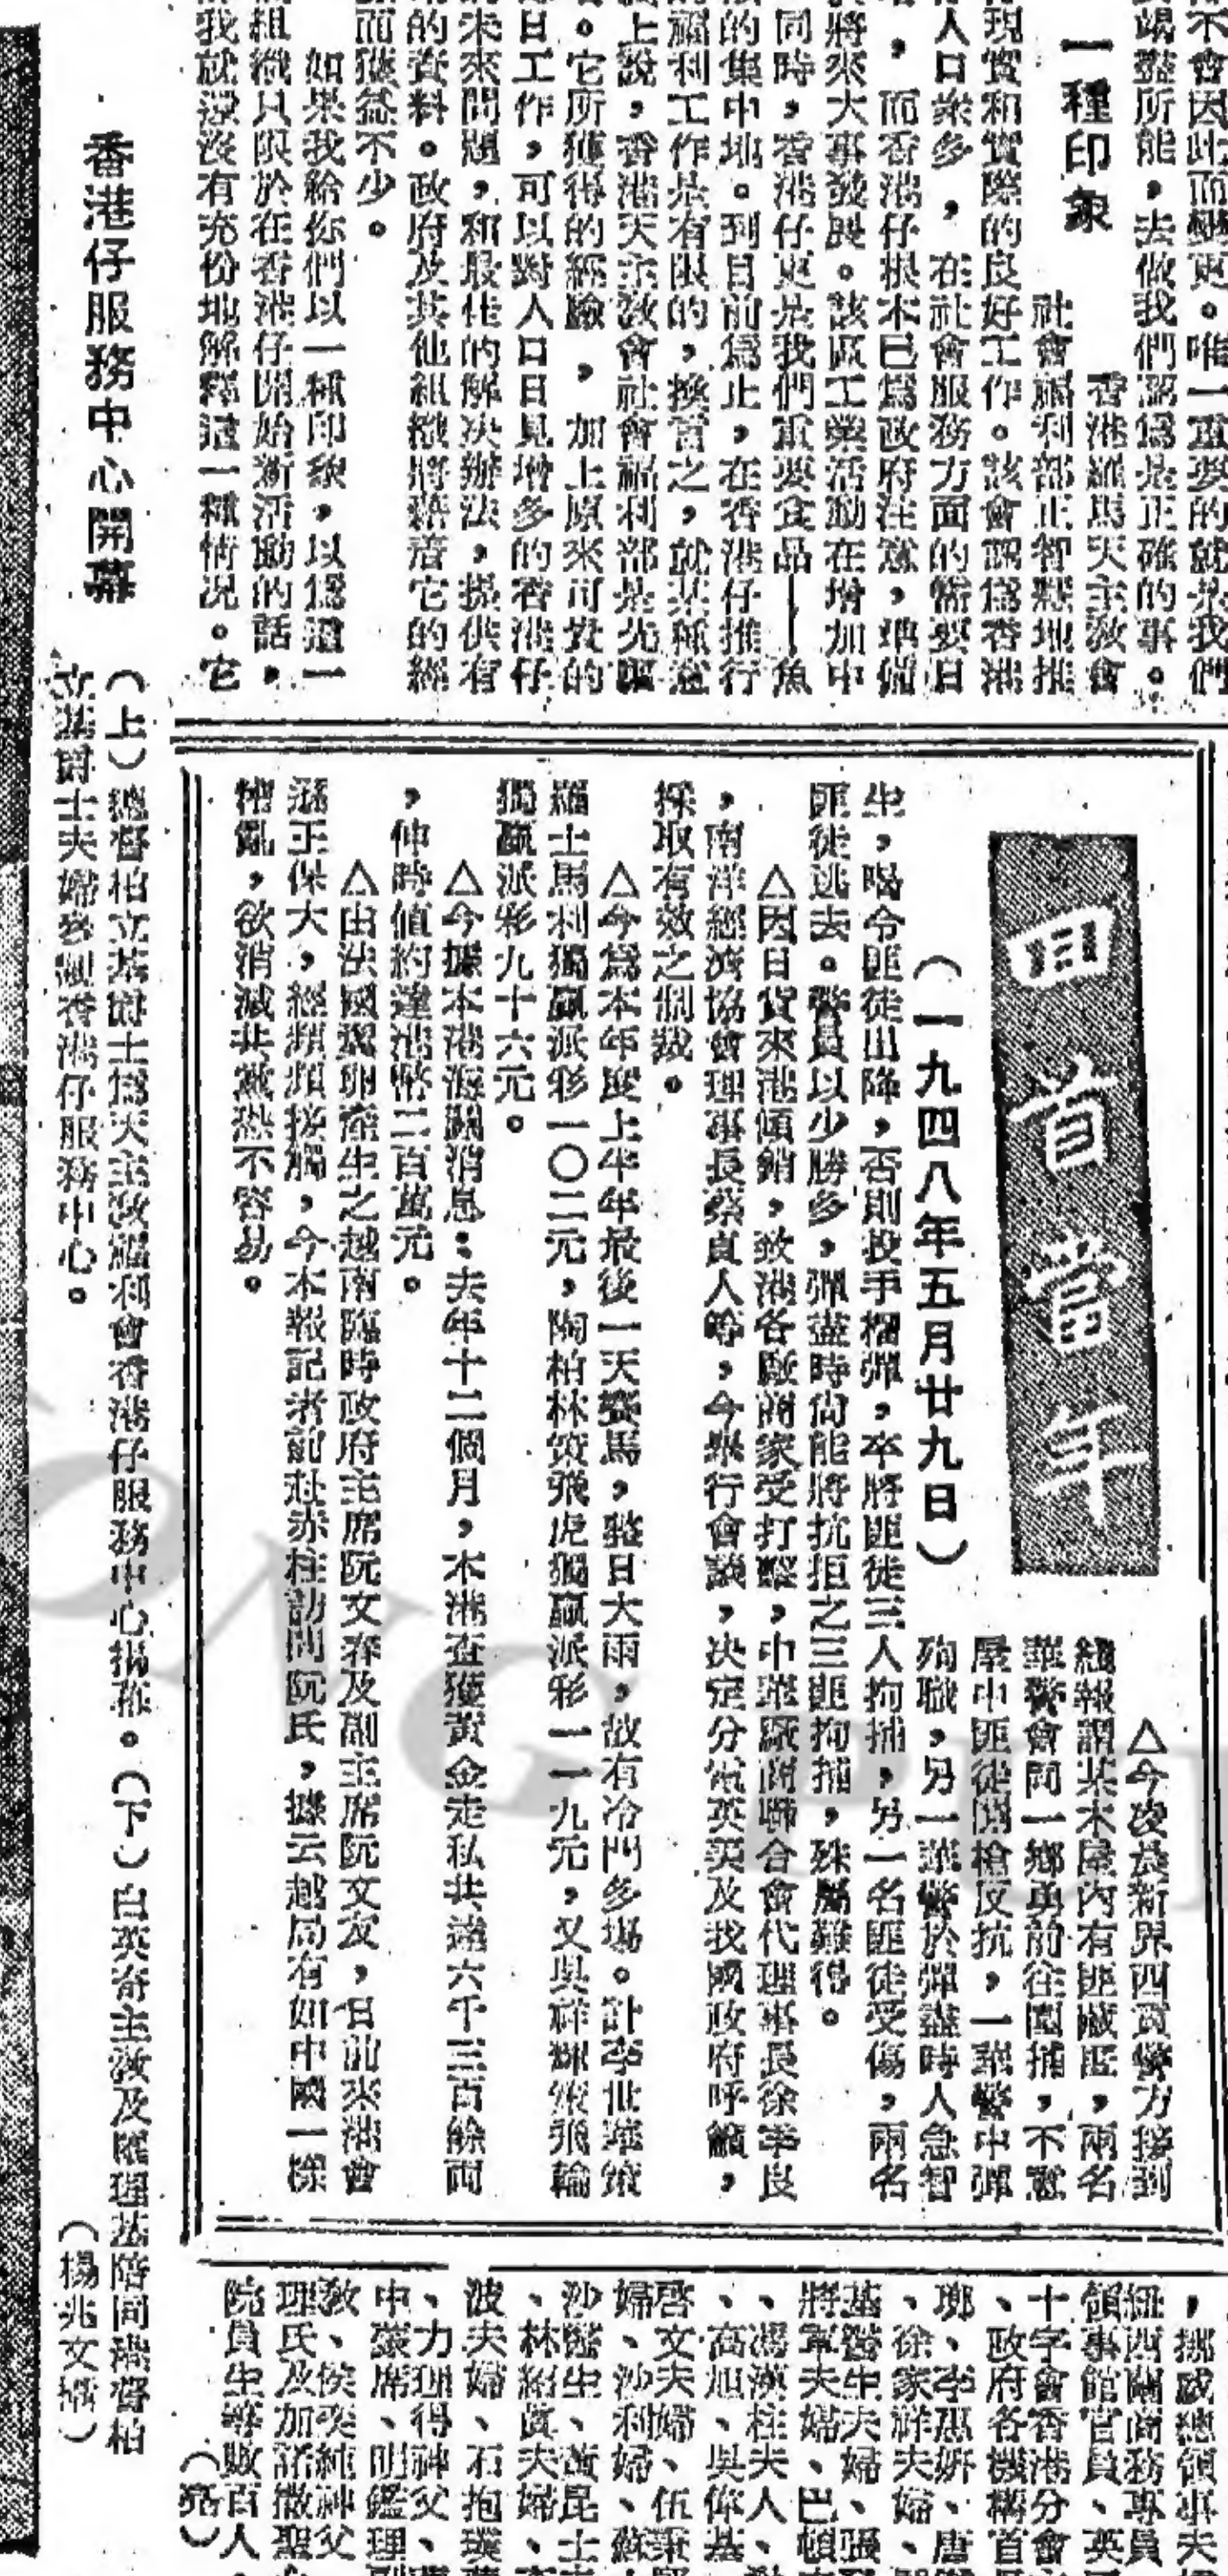

自助計劃 世界戰後青年協會贊助該項計畫，英聯邦兒童基金會資助費半贈還津貼，德意志克尼夫天主教會服務中心，世界各地別一間獨闢病房，該服務中心將成立一間獨闢病房，紅十字會贊助。

此新社會服務中心全部目的是協助自助計劃，由技職訓練班，健康服務部，營養食物等組工作去推動完成。自英倫天主教總務處：許常湛任

(4) What are elderly people finding to be true?
(5) How is automation going to increase the problem?

(10 marks)

When most people are questioned these days about their personal hobbies, the usual reply is either a face-saving lie about stamp-collecting (they have perhaps a few hundred assorted stamps in an old album at home which were amassed while they were at school and which have been ignored for years), or the excuse, which is not without a germ of truth, about there being no time for such pursuits in this age of speed. Certainly if one yields to the enchantments of the visual entertainment which makes small demands on our intelligence and skills, provided by stage, screen and radio, one will have little time for a hobby. And this is a great pity, because, hobbies can be extremely important in the mental health of modern man.

With the invention and development of television, too, entertainment has grown much more visual in character and is demanding less and less use of the imagination, considered by many to be man's greatest faculty; but its greatest inadequacy lies in its inability to exercise just those creative powers in men which are called upon and developed in the pursuit of a worthwhile hobby. This lack is not serious while a man is still fully employed in his day-to-day work which itself often gives him opportunities to create either with his hands or with his mind. At this time he seeks only some form of relaxation in his leisure. There comes a time, however, when he must retire from his occupation on account of age, and it is then that these shallower pastimes, useful enough as a form of relaxation, might cease to satisfy the hitherto active man. To-day, many elderly people are finding this to be true, and seem constantly to be suffering from a sense of frustration after retirement, which itself in short temper and slow degeneration of health, the two most common

A social problem brought about by a lack of satisfying pursuits for leisure is growing up and might well reach alarming proportions if industrial development continue along the same path as they are doing at present. The increasing introduction of automation, of machines instead of men, is going to mean reduced wages and more leisure hours for both employer and employee. And many processes day regarded as requiring a skilled craftsman or operator, will eventually become mere matter of pressing the right buttons. How then are the minds of ordinary people to be fully occupied? Hobbies, that is, pursuits which are creative, are the only answer. Without them there can only be an increase in frustration and nervousness among the mass of society.

(b) Write a sentence which answers the question.

- In what way has science caused the decline of reading as a pastime?
- Why was reading so popular a hundred years ago?
- Why were many of the novels of a hundred years ago so long?
- What reason does the author suggest for the increase in the amount of reading today?
- What criticism does the author make of much of the present-day reading material?

It is widely believed that the reading of serious works of fiction for entertainment no longer so universally enjoyed as it was in the past. This decline in the popularity of reading has been attributed by many to the great pace at which we live to-day. Others claim that this is not so. They blame the great advances made in scientific knowledge which have made possible such by-products as the radio, the cinematograph and television, the three great aural and visual entertainers of the modern world. These three, it is asserted, have almost completely usurped the position of reading as the public's chief source of entertainment.

A hundred years ago reading fictional works was certainly one of the principal entertainments of those members of the public who were literate, although we must bear in mind that this group was not nearly so large as it is to-day. It was one of the few ways in which imaginative minds could escape from the tedious confinement of everyday life, and journey into the world of fiction, conducted thither by the authors to view fresh horizons and to make many new acquaintances. This desire for "escape" made popular the works of such men as Charles Dickens, and partly explains the very great popularity of the serial story. If such a story captured the public's fancy, then the author was obliged to spin it out as long as possible; hence the great length of many of the novels of that period. To-day we find the counterparts to these serialised novels in the plays, also broken up into instalments, produced on the radio or on television.

Many people to-day still feel the urge to "escape" for a time from their daily lives. They can satisfy this urge by going to the cinema, watching television or listening to the radio; or they can still do so by reading. Indeed, there are some people who are not convinced that reading is dying out as an important pastime. They argue that, on the contrary, more books are being published to-day than ever before and that, if we remember the large numbers of newspapers and magazines brought out every day, a much greater amount of reading material is now being consumed by the public. Furthermore, they declare, the volume of business done at the many public libraries scattered throughout the country is increasing every month. Doubtless, what they say is true, but it can be further argued that though the amount may have grown, this is mainly due to the increase in the numbers of people who can read. Also, the quality of much of the material now read has grievously deteriorated, and by far the greater part of the reading done nowadays is of a very superficial nature, as much of the material tends to be escapism of an unwholesome kind, containing little literary merit.
